

Canadian Journalism and Media Studies Bibliography
Summer 2005

Gene ALLEN, Ryerson University. Relevant research: "News across the border: Associated Press in Canada, 1894-1914," Journalism History (accepted for publication, to appear January 2006) "Business, culture and the history of news," in Elsbeth Heamans et. al., (eds.), Science, Polity, and Society in Canada: Essays in Honour of Michael Bliss (Toronto: University of Toronto Press, forthcoming [2006]) "Monopolies of news: Harold Innis, the telegraph and wire services," in Menahem Blondheim and Rita Watson, eds., The Toronto School of Communication: International Perspectives (Jerusalem: Magnes Press, [in press]). "Debate: Transcending National Boundaries: Towards an International History of Journalism", Journalism Studies 4(1) 2003, 121-131 (synopsis of paper presented at regional meeting of the American Journalism Historians Association/Association for Education in Journalism and Mass Communication, New York, March 2001)

Marsha BARBER, Ryerson University. Relevant research: (with Ann Rauhala) "The Canadian News Directors Study: How Television Newsroom Decision Makers Understand Their Journalistic Roles (2004); (with Ann Rauhala) "The Canadian News Directors Study: Demographics, Values and Attitudes of Television Decision Makers" (2003).

Marc Francois BERNIER, Ottawa University. Professeur agrégé
Département de communication, Université d'Ottawa. Relevant research: Bernier, Marc-François, (2004) Éthique et déontologie du journalisme, Sainte-Foy, Presses de l'Université Laval, 2e édition revue et augmentée, 400 p. Bernier, Marc-François (2003), «L'ombudsman de Radio-Canada face aux doléances du public en matière d'unité nationale et d'ingérence politique», dans Mélanges en l'honneur de Vincent Lemieux: La science politique au Québec: le dernier des maîtres fondateurs, sous la direction de Jean Crête, Sainte-Foy, Presses de l'Université Laval, p. 391-416. Bernier, Marc-François (2003), «L'ombudsman français de la Société Radio-Canada: un modèle d'imputabilité de l'information», Canadian Journal of Communication, 28, 3, 341-357.

Colette BRIN, Université Laval. Relevant research: Examining Credibility in Canadian Journalism: A National Study of Public Attitudes About News (2004); L'organisation médiatique et le changement des pratiques journalistiques: Adaptation, innovation et réforme (2003); L'influence stratégique des journalistes politiques dans un contexte de tension normative: La couverture électorale à la télévision de Radio-Canada, Cahiers du journalisme (2000).

Jean CHARRON, Université Laval. Relevant research: Journalismes en mutation: Perspectives de recherche et orientations méthodologiques, Communication (1996); La production de l'actualité (Boréal, 1994).

James COMPTON, University of Western Ontario. Compton, James (2004) The Integrated News Spectacle: A Political Economy of Cultural Performance, New York:

Peter Lang. Compton, James (2004) "News as Spectacle: The Political Economy and Aesthetics of 24/7 News," Democratic Communiqué, 19, Spring. Skinner, David, Mike Gasher and James Compton (2001) "Putting Theory to Practice: A Critical Approach to Journalism Studies," Journalism: Theory, Practice and Criticism, Vol. 2, No. 3, pp. 341-360. Forthcoming: Skinner, David, James Compton and Mike Gasher (eds.) (Oct 2005) Converging Media, Diverging Politics: A Political Economy of the News Media in the United States and Canada, Lanham, MD: Lexington.

Gene COSTAIN, University of Central Florida. Relevant research: Reporting on Labor: Uncertain Ideological Boundaries in Canadian Journalism, 1972-1989 (Ph.D. thesis, University of Iowa, 2002).

Jean DE BONVILLE. Laval University. professeur titulaire
Département d'information et de communication, Université Laval. Brin, Colette, Jean Charron et Jean de Bonville, (dir.), (2004), Nature et transformations du journalisme. Théorie et recherches empiriques, Québec, Presses de l'Université Laval. Charron, Jean et Jean de Bonville, « Le journalisme », dans Denise Lemieux, avec la coll. de Gilles Bibeau et al. (dir.) (2002), Traité de la culture: Le Québec, son patrimoine culturel, son mode de vie et ses productions culturelles, Québec, Presses de l'Université Laval et Institut québécois de recherche sur la culture. De Bonville, Jean (2002), « Proposition d'un modèle d'explication du changement dans la pratique journalistique » dans Remy Rieffel et Thierry Watine (dir.), Les mutations du journalisme en France et au Québec, Paris, Éditions Panthéon Assas, 2002. De Bonville, Jean (2000), L'analyse de contenu des médias : de la problématique au traitement statistique, Bruxelles, DeBoeck Université.

François DEMERS, Université Laval. Journalistes au Canada et au Québec: Reconfiguration générale, Hermès (2003); Médias et journalisme dans un environnement en mutation: Qu'arrive-t-il à la politique? (2002); "L'Internet: Un facteur de fragmentation du Cœrégional, illustré par le cas du Soleil de Québec" (2000); Communication et syndicalisme: Des imprimeurs aux journalistes (Éditions du Méridien, 1988). Also working on project titled "Les valeurs des jeunes journalistes dans la région de la ville de Québec."

Chris DORNAN. Carleton University. The Canadian General Election of 2004, Jon Pammett and Christopher Dornan (eds.). Toronto: Dundurn Press, 2005. Dornan, Christopher. "Other People's Money: The Debate Over Foreign Ownership in the Canadian Media." In How Canadians Communicate: Media, Globalization and Identity. David Taras, Frits Pannekoek, Maria Bakardjieva (eds.). University of Calgary Press (forthcoming 2006). Dornan, Christopher. "Printed Matter: Canadian Newspapers." In How Canadians Communicate. David Taras, Frits Pannekoek, Maria Bakardjieva (eds.). University of Calgary Press, 2003. Johansen, Peter and Christopher Dornan. "Journalism Education in Canada." In Journalism Education in Europe and North America: An International Comparison. Romy Frolich and Christina Holz-Bacha (eds.). New Jersey: Hampton Press, 2003.

Judith DUBOIS, Université du Québec à Montréal. Relevant research: La couverture médiatique du crime organisé: Peur et consensus, Cahiers du journalisme (2003); "Les femmes et l'information: Étude statistique de la place des femmes dans les médias québécois," Communication (1988).

Fred FLETCHER, York University. Relevant research: Media, Elections and Democracy (Dundurn Press, 1991); Reporting the Campaign: Election Coverage in Canada (Dundurn Press, 1991); (with David V.J. Bell) The Newspaper and Public Affairs (Royal Commission on Newspapers, 1981).

Barbara FREEMAN. Carleton University. Relevant research: The Satellite Sex: The Media and Women's Issues in English Canada, 1966-71.

Sandra GABRIELE. FQRSC postdoctoral fellow, Carleton University. "Gendering Journalism (History): The Emergence of the Woman Journalist, Toronto, 1880-1895" Ph.D. diss., Concordia University, 2004. Revised and Resubmitted. "Gendered Mobility, the Nation and the Woman's Page: Exploring the Mobile Practices of the Canadian Lady Journalist, 1888-1895." Journalism: Theory, Practice & Criticism. Re-submitted: 09 February 2005. With Mike Gasher. "Increasing Circulation? A Comparative News Flow Study of the Montreal Gazette's Hard-Copy and On-Line Editions." Journalism Studies. 5:3 (2004): 311-323.

Mike GASHER. Concordia. Lorimer, Rowland, & Mike Gasher. (2004). Mass Communication in Canada. Fifth Edition. Toronto: Oxford University Press. Elmer, Greg, & Mike Gasher. (2005). Contracting Out Hollywood: Runaway Productions and Foreign Location Shooting. Lanham, MD: Rowman & Littlefield. Skinner, David, James Compton & Mike Gasher. (Forthcoming, October 2005). Converging Media, Diverging Politics: Political Economy of News in the United States and Canada. Lanham, Md.: Lexington Books. Gasher, Mike. Might Makes Right: News Reportage as Discursive Weapon in the War in Iraq. Bring 'Em On! Media and Politics in the Iraq War (eds. Lee Artz & Yahya R. Kamalipour). Boulder, Colo.: Rowman & Littlefield (2004), pp. 209-224. Gasher, Mike, & Sandra Gabriele. Increasing Circulation? A Comparative News-Flow Study of the Montreal Gazette's Hard-copy and On-line Editions. Journalism Studies, Vol. 5, No. 3, 2004, pp. 311-323.

Richard GODIN. Moncton University. professeur adjoint Département d'études françaises (Programme d'information-communication), Université de Moncton. Godin, Richard, (2003), «Édification d'un mythe par une chaîne de télévision publique. Le cas de la couverture journalistique du 11 septembre 2001 par la Société Radio-Canada», in Chadli, El-Mostafa et Garon, Lise, dir., Et puis vint le 11 septembre... Remise en question de l'hypothèse du choc des civilisations. Québec, Presses de l'Université Laval. Godin, Richard (2002), "Le rituel de la soirée électorale à la télévision", Dossiers de l'Audiovisuel, Institut national de l'audiovisuel, Paris, La documentation Française, pp. 65-67.

Joshua GREENBERG. Carleton University. Relevant research: "This News May Come as a Shock: The Politics and Press Coverage of Electricity Reform in Ontario, 1995-2002" in Cdn Journal of Communication, 2005 (in press); "Tories, Teachers and the Media Politics of Education Reform: News Discourse and the 1997 Ontario Teachers Strike" in Journalism Studies, 2004; "Promoting Philanthropy? News Publicity and Voluntary Organizations in Canada" in Voluntas, 2004 (lead author; with David Walters).

Bob HACKETT, Simon Fraser University. Relevant research: Hackett, R., "Drumbeating for War? Media versus Peace and Democracy," in George Melnyk, Canada and the New American Empire: War and Antiwar, University of Calgary Press, forthcoming, 2004. "Boomers in the News: Media, power and social policy." (forthcoming, 2004) Chapter for Gloria Gutman, ed., Reaching Retirement: Snow Birds or Sitting Ducks? (University of Toronto Press). Hackett, R., and S. Uzelman, "Tracing corporate influence in the press: A summary of recent NewsWatch Canada research." Journalism Studies, Vol. 4, no. 3 (August 2003): 331-346. "Taking Back the Media: Notes on the Potential for a Communicative Democracy Movement," Studies in Political Economy 63 (Autumn 2000): 61-86. Cross, K., and R. Hackett. Political Communication and the News Media in Democracies: Competing Perspectives. Kyiv: Osnovy Press, 2000. 142pp. (In Ukrainian only; translated under the auspices of the Canada-Ukraine Democratic Education Project: Queen's University, Kingston, and Taras Shevchenko National University, Kyiv.) "Covering up the 'War on Terrorism': The Master Frame and the Media Chill," in Peter Phillips & Project Censored, Censored 2003: The Top 25 Censored Stories, New York: Seven Stories Press, 2002, pp. 131-138. Originally published in Media 8(3), Fall 2001: 8-11. "The News Media and Civic Equality: Watch Dogs, Mad Dogs, or Lap Dogs?, in Ed Broadbent (ed.), Democratic Equality: What Went Wrong?, University of Toronto, 2001, pp. 197-212.

Linda KAY. Concordia. Research: The Reading List. To be published by Hamilton Books, a division of University Press of America, Fall 2005. My Mom and Oprah. Article accepted for I'm Every Woman: The Phenomenon of Oprah, an anthology to be published in 2005. Serving Two Masters: The boss and the news. Case study for the textbook Media Management in the Age of Giants: Business Dynamics of Journalism, University of Iowa Press, pgs. 221-222. (Publication set for December 2003). Deadline Reporting: Terrorism. Double-blind peer-reviewed article for Academic Exchange Quarterly, a cross-disciplinary journal dedicated to the advancement of teachers, professional knowledge and skills. Volume 7, issue 2, pgs. 49-53 (summer, 2003) ISSN 1096-1453.

Donna LOGAN, University of British Columbia. Relevant research: Journalism in the New Millennium (UBC School of Journalism, 1998).

Jim MCLEAN. Concordia University. McLean, James S. (2005: Forthcoming). "When Head Office was Upstairs: How Corporate Concentration Changed a Television Newsroom." Canadian Journal of Communication, Vol 30/3. (As J.S. Revenant). (2003) "As If No One Ever Rode the Metro." (Photographic Montage). Blackflash, 20(3), 12-20. (2005/06: Submitted). "Public Art in an Unbounded World: Is a Global Public Possible?" In Annie G erin and James S. McLean (Eds.), An Anthology of Public

Art in Canada. Toronto: University of Toronto Press. (2006/07: In Progress). Daily Television News and the Logic of Practice. Concordia University: Doctoral Thesis.

Minelle MAHTANI. University of Toronto. Relevant research: Gendered News Practices: Women Journalists in Mumbai, Toronto, Sydney and Melbourne (2004); and Representing Minorities: Canadian Media and Minority Relations (2001).

Catherine MCKERCHER, Carleton University. Relevant research: Newsworkers Unite: Labor, Convergence and North American Newspapers (Rowman and Littlefield, 2002).

Lydia MILJAN, University of Windsor. Relevant research: (with Barry Cooper) Hidden Agendas: How Journalists Influence the News (UBC Press, 2003).

John MILLER, Ryerson University. Relevant research: Yesterday's News: Why Canada's Daily Newspapers are Failing Us (Fernwood, 1998).

David PRITCHARD, University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee. Relevant research: (with Paul Brewer and Florian Sauvageau) "Changes in Canadian Journalists, Views about the Social and Political Roles of the News Media: a Panel Study, 1996-2003," Canadian Journal of Political Science (in press); (with Florian Sauvageau) Les journalistes canadiens: Un portrait de fin de siècle (Presses de l'Université Laval, 1999).

Ann RAUHALA, Ryerson University. Relevant research: (with Marsha Barber) The Canadian News Directors Study: How Television Newsroom Decision Makers Understand Their Journalistic Roles (2004); (with Marsha Barber) The Canadian News Directors Study: Demographics, Values and Attitudes of Television Decision Makers (2003).

Armande SAINT-JEAN, Université de Sherbrooke. Relevant research: Éthique de l'information: Fondements et pratiques au Québec depuis 1960 (Presses de l'Université de Montréal, 2002); L'apport des femmes au renouvellement des pratiques professionnelles: Le cas des journalistes, Recherches féministes (2000); Canadian Women Journalists: The Other Half, of the Equation (1998).

Florian SAUVAGEAU, Université Laval. Relevant research: (with David Pritchard and Paul Brewer) Changes in Canadian Journalists, Views about the Social and Political Roles of the News Media: a Panel Study, 1996-2003, Canadian Journal of Political Science (in press); (with David Pritchard) Les journalistes canadiens: Un portrait de fin de siècle (Presses de l'Université Laval, 1999); (with Simon Langlois) L'image de l'ombudsman de presse dans deux quotidiens canadiens, Communication (1989); (with Simon Langlois) "Les journalistes des quotidiens québécois et leur métier," Politique (1982).

David SKINNER, York University. Relevant research: Skinner, David, James Compton, and Mike Gasher (Eds.), Converging Media, Diverging Interests: A Political Economy of

News in the United States and Canada. Lexington Books, (Forthcoming Nov. 2005.)
Skinner, David, "Alternative Media In Canada." In Paul Attallah and Leslie Regan Shade (Eds.). Mediascapes: New Patterns in Canadian Communication, 2nd Ed. Toronto: Thomson Nelson. (Forthcoming 2005.) Skinner, David. "Reform or Alternatives? Limits and Pressures on Changing the Mediascape." Communique. Union for Democratic Communications. Volume 19, Spring 2004. pp. 14-38. Skinner, David, Mike Gasher, and James Compton. "Putting Theory to Practice: A Critical Approach to Journalism Studies," Journalism: Theory, Practice & Criticism. Sage Publications, v. 2(3) 341-360.

Romayne FULLERTON-SMITH. Western University. Relevant research: "Covering Kids: Are Journalists Guilty of Exploiting Children?" Journalism Studies, Vol.5, No. 4, November 2004. "Watching the Pros vs. Playing the Game: How Coverage Affects Community Level Athletes." Available online at www.truesport.ca/files/SportWeWant/CCES-Paper-Smith-Fullerton-E.pdf "Representing the Reprehensible: Fairy Tales and News Coverage of Karla Homolka." Under consideration by Atlantis. Smith Fullerton, R. and Doyle, M. "After the Blackburns: AN Analysis of News Coverage of the London Free Press." In progress and will be submitting it to David Spencer's new e-journal in October.

Stuart SOROKA, McGill University. Relevant research: Newspapers in Canada Pilot Study (2004); Issue Attributes and Agenda-setting by Media, the Public, and Policymakers in Canada, International Journal of Public Opinion Research (2002).

David SPENCER, University of Western Ontario. Relevant research: The Cartoon Research Library at Ohio State University, in Journalism History, Volume 31, Number 1, Spring 2005, pp 46-50. Race And Revolution: Canada's Victorian Labour Press And the Chinese Immigration Question, in Javnost: The Public The European Journal of Communication, Volume 12 (2005), 1, pp. 15-32. Visions of Violence: A Cartoon Study of America and War in American Journalism, Volume 21, Number 2, Spring 2004, pp. 47-78. The Trojan Horse: A Cartoon History of Canada-U.S. Free Trade International Journal of Comic Art, Volume 6, No. 1, Spring 2004. Double Vision: The Victorian Bi-Cultural World of Henri Julien in International Journal of Comic Art, Vol. 2, No. 2, Fall 2000, pp. 1-32.

Erin STEUTER, Mount Allison University. Relevant research: He Who Pays the Piper Calls the Tune: Investigation of a Canadian Media Monopoly, in Web Journal of Mass Communication Research, Vol.7, No.4, 2004. Pedalling Skepticism: Media Representations of Homeopathy as "Junk Science," in Journal of American and Comparative Cultures, Vol. 24, Nos. 3 and 4, pp.1-10, 2001. The Irvings Cover Themselves: Media Representations of the Irving Oil Refinery Strike, in Canadian Journal of Communication, Vol.24, no.4, pp.629-647, 1999. Understanding the Media/Terrorism Relationship: An Analysis of Ideology and the News in Time Magazine, in Political Communication and Persuasion, Volume 7, No. 4, pp. 257-278, 1991. "Truth is the First Casualty of War: Media and Propaganda," in Heather Laube and Susan Sobieraj (Eds.) Teaching About Mass Media in the Classroom, American Sociology Association, 2006. "Billionaires, Bombers and Belly dancers: Arab Representation in Media,” in Heather Laube and Susan Sobieraj (Eds.) Teaching About Mass Media in the Classroom, American Sociology Association, 2005. Electronic publications: http://dominionpaper.ca/features/2003/11/10/freedom\_of.html, <http://www.yourmedia.ca/modules/irving/overview/overview.shtml>, <http://www.shunpiking.com/ol0105/05MediaIrving.htm>.

David TARAS, University of Calgary. Relevant research: Power and Betrayal in the Canadian Media (Broadview Press, 1999); The Newsmakers: The Media's Influence on Canadian Politics (Nelson, 1990).

Stephen J. WARD, University of British Columbia. Relevant research: “Philosophical Foundations for Global Journalism Ethics,” Journal of Mass Media Ethics, 20(1), 2005, pp. 3-21. “Journalism Ethics From the Public’s Point of View,” Journalism Studies, 6(3), 2005, pp. 315-330 “Ethical Ideals in Journalism: Civic Uplift or the Pursuit of Truth?” Co-authored paper to be published by Journal of Mass Media Ethics in 2005. Co-authored with James B. Murphy, Professor of Government, Dartmouth College, and Aine Donovan, director of the Institute for Ethics in the Professions, Dartmouth College.

Thierry WATINE, Université Laval. Relevant research: Entre réalité, vérité et objectivité: La perspective, journalistique, Cahiers du journalisme (2004); De la convergence des métiers de la communication publique à l'hybridation des pratiques professionnelles: La nouvelle posture journalistique, Cahiers du journalisme (2003).

Mary Lynn YOUNG, University of British Columbia. Relevant research: Ph.D. Dissertation (2005) Crime Content and Media Economics: Gendered Practices and Sensational Stories, 1950-2000. Young, M. and D. Pritchard. A Cross-border Crime Story: the Internet and Converging Media Norms (2004), Forthcoming; Sparks, R. and M. Young, 2005. “Convergence or Consolidation? An Analysis of Major Canadian News Websites in 2001.” Submitted to the Canadian Journal of Communication. Young, Mary Lynn, Aleck Ostry and Merrilee Hughes. 2005. “An Historical Approach to the Newspaper Coverage of Health News in the Winnipeg Free Press,” Forthcoming. Young, Mary Lynn. 2005. Book Review. Media Pedagogy: New Media Studies Texts for the Classroom. Journalism and Mass Communication Educator. Forthcoming. Young, Mary Lynn. 2003. Book Review. Pacific Press: The unauthorized history of Canada’s media monopoly. Labour/Travail. March 2003.